

January 31 Communiqué

Dear Sunnyside Family,

This has been a tough few weeks for my home state of Minnesota, as well as our nation. The violence, the visceral rhetoric, and partisan expressions have continued to escalate the divides in our society—including churches. I've had various conversations with people from a variety of backgrounds and what usually emerges, once initial emotional reactions die down (which rarely happens online by the way when we often care more about saving face than saving humanity), is grief and a genuine desire to have peace.

We are in a series called How to Kill a Church. Christ is clear that houses divided do not stand (Mark 3:25). So, in our discussions, let's try to remember a few verses that contain non-partisan principles.

Do not rejoice when your enemies fall, and do not let your heart be glad when they stumble, or else the Lord will see it and be displeased, and turn away his anger from them. (Proverbs 24:17-18). He has told you, O mortal, what is good; and what does the Lord require of you but to do justice, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with your God? (Micah 6:8).

You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbour and hate your enemy." But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be children of your Father in heaven; for he makes his sun rise on evil and on the good, and sends rain on the righteous and on the unrighteous. (Matthew 5:43-45).

Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you tithe mint, dill, and cummin, and have neglected the weightier matters of the law: justice and mercy and faith. It is these you ought to have practised without neglecting the others. (Matthew 23:23).

He said to him, "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your mind." This, is the greatest and first commandment. And a second is like it: "You shall love your neighbour as yourself." On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." (Matthew 22:37-40).

The values that emerge from these verses, and others like it, are a blend of justice, mercy, and care for those around us, grounded in a love for God. It is not a kind of love that is triumphalist over tragedy, demeaning in its descriptions of people, and knows the difference between justice and blind rage.

Yet, this week, when calls for kindness and upholding human dignity in the midst of conflict have been made, or calls to lament the loss of life, these calls are interpreted as partisan statements. Church family, the fruits of the Spirit (i.e. joy, peace, patience, generosity, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control, etc.) don't belong to a political party's propaganda. If our knee-jerk reaction is to label such calls as such; then we have drunk deeply from a well other than the one that gives living water.

A sure way to kill a church, and each other, is to persist in seeing our fellow human beings solely as political and spiritual threats rather than people whom God loves. This isn't a naive call to abandon law. Every side recognizes the need for legal consequences, even if they disagree on who requires them. What is important to agree upon as followers of Jesus, is that in our quest for justice, we don't exchange the life-giving power of blood of the Lamb for the life-draining trap of bloodlust. May the Spirit enable us to continue to have a prophetic voice driven by God's love for all people, not just the ones who agree with us.

Pastor Seth Pierce, Ph.D.
